

The Top 5 Common Mistakes Made in Healthcare Relocation:

5. Not using your relocation policy as a recruiting tool
4. Treating every relocation the same
3. Fragmented points of contact during the move
2. Insensitivity to the transferee's communication preferences

The number one most common mistake:

Hiring a company that doesn't deliver the elite level of service that healthcare providers not only deserve, but practice themselves.

There's no room for error in healthcare.

There's no room for error in relocating your healthcare professionals either.

It is our mission at Relocation Today, Inc. to partner with healthcare leaders to offer your physicians, management and staff exceptional relocation services. We will endeavor to exceed the expectations of your healthcare professionals by:

- Serving not only as a expert but also an advocate
- Seeking only the best in class service providers
- Delivering complete relocation services and solutions
- Operating with compassion, commitment and creativity
- Treating their relocation as the unique opportunity it is
- Matching the meticulousness and dedication of the healthcare professional with every service we provide